WHOLESALE SELLING PRICES OF CREAMERY BUTTER

A change in the basis of reporting wholesale prices which appear in this report is being made beginning with this issue. This is necessary because the advent of OPA price ceiling orders, WPB "freeze" orders, conservation orders, and continuation of the Government buying program for lend-lease distribution, military and other uses, has so restricted open wholesale trading in terminal markets, that the volume upon which to base prices reflecting this type of transaction, is no longer adequate. In order to meet this situation, the coverage in reporting wholesale prices is being broadened to include all wholesale trading, except sales involving long time credit or other unusual services. As a result of this broader coverage, reported prices will reflect not only such open trading as occurs, but sales of special marks and sales made at agreed differentials in relation to published quotations. This change became effective today, December 30, 1942.
